

SEARCH BLOGFLAG BLOGNext Blog»

Bird Food

Sunday, July 5, 2009

Great Food at the B&B on Tiffany Hill

I surprised my husband with a trip to Asheville, NC 4th of July weekend.

A friend of ours recently opened a Bed and Breakfast in Asheville. Her name is Selena and her amazing place is called the Bed and Breakfast on Tiffany Hill.

Selena describes her B&B as "Casual Elegance filled with Southern Hospitality" and it is that and so much more. The B&B is gorgeous. There are five guest rooms that are decorated to make your stay comfortable and relaxing. Selena is a gracious and extremely helpful Inn Keeper. She will assist you in planning your day with local activities or encourage you to relax on the property walking around the 7 gardens or taking a nap in the hammock. Each night we found a special treat in our room like chocolate chip cookies or pecan nugget bars. My husband loved that each day upon return from our adventures there was a new German Chocolate Truffle sitting beside the bed to replace the one he ate earlier that day.

Each morning we were served and extraordinary three course breakfast.

Day 1

Fresh fruit with honey, citrus sauce:

Search

Blog Archive

▼ 2009 (41)

► August (3)

▼ July (4)

Summer Soup ~ Gazpacho
Pasta with Roasted
Tomatoes, Olives and Goat
Chees...

Chocolate, Peanut Butter
Cake

Great Food at the B&B on Tiffany Hill

► June (4)

► May (7)

► April (1)

► March (6)

► February (6)

► January (10)

► 2008 (86)

► 2007 (95)

Side Dishes

◆ 28 Cooks

◆ Applemint

◆ C for Cooking

◆ Culinary Concoctions

◆ Dani Spies

- ◆ Dine and Dish
- ◆ Kalyn's Kitchen
- ◆ La Mia Cucina
- ◆ Mele Cotte
- ◆ Simply Recipes
- ◆ Sunday Nite dinner
- ◆ The Mad Eater
- ◆ The Savory Notebook
- ◆ Use Real Butter

Friend of Blake Makes

Click here to join
Foodie Blogroll FAQ Page
Click Here For The Blogroll!
Join Our Forum!
News: New Widget and Site!

Contests and Giveaways!

Get The New Widget Code!

Migratory Links

- ◆ Southern Wings
- ◆ Atlanta Audubon
- ◆ Birding Kennesaw Mountain

Artichoke Egg Strata with asparagus and seasoned potatoes:

Pineapple Upside Down Cobbler:

Day 2

Fresh Fruit with a Vanilla Cream Sauce

Banana & Pecan Stuffed French Toast

Frozen Vanilla Yogurt with Raspberry Sauce:

Day 3

Peaches in Simple Sauce with Infused Mint

Ham, Mushroom and Egg Cups

Banana, Pineapple Cream Pie

The food was another wonderful aspect of this bed and breakfast. All three days we were there the breakfast was truly delicious.

Of course after eating a big breakfast each morning we needed to get a little exercise. So lucky for us the Dupont National Forest was only a few minutes away.

The area around Dupont Forest is known as Land of the Waterfalls. The waterfalls were breathtaking.

Thanks again Selena!

Posted by Sharona May at 5:15 PM

4 COMMENTS:

Anonymous said...

Great post Sharon! So happy that you & Jim were able to pop up to see Selena's dream come true!

Hope to see you guys soon.

Tracy

July 7, 2009 4:33 PM

Pam Newsome Schnurr said...

Hi Sharon,

You could not have described the breakfast any better than showing a real picture!! You are right, it is Fabulous!! We enjoyed the grand opening so much we are planning another trip real soon. We also went white water rafting while we were there. It was so relaxing and beautiful, I highly recommend everyone to make a visit. You all would love it!!!!

Pam

July 7, 2009 6:19 PM

Anonymous said...

Those breakfast dishes look so delicious; can't wait to try them for myself. Looks like I'll need to plan some hiking to work off some of those calories. Looking forward to enjoying Tiffany Hill in just a few weeks!!

Sharon Miller

July 9, 2009 10:09 AM

Marsha said...

This looks wonderful! James and I love Asheville, and it looks like Tiffany Hill might be the next place we stay!

July 9, 2009 8:37 PM

Post a Comment

Newer Post

Home

Older Post

Subscribe to: Post Comments (Atom)

Counter

021369

Free Counter