

Tiffany Hill

The fulfillment of innkeeper Selena Einwechter's 25-year dream, the Bed and Breakfast on Tiffany Hill is nestled into the mountains just outside of Asheville, North Carolina. The cozy suites are graciously appointed to be sure, but the real allure is the beautiful property that is designed to draw guests out into the great outdoors. Rocking chairs line the porch, and twig furniture placed in conversational groupings dots the large stone patio. It's easy to leave your worries behind and revel in the serenity of Tiffany Hill, and guests often tell Selena that they are able to truly relax for the first time in years.

